What is a lithium iron phosphate battery?

Lithium iron phosphate battery is characterised by outstanding durability, current performance and charging speed. It also has a longer lifetime and is a more lightweight alternative to lead-acid batteries. LiFePO<sub>4</sub> retain 100% of their capacity even for 3000 charging cycles and thus they provide over 10 years of operation.

Can a solar panel charge a LiFePO<sub>4</sub> battery?

Here are the main things to understand about it: Do not connect your solar panel directly to your LiFePO<sub>4</sub> battery. Doing so can damage the battery. Instead, connect the solar panel to the LFP battery via a solar charge controller. A charge controller regulates the voltage and current to safely charge the battery.

What battery should I use if I'm using a 100Ah battery?

12V LiFePO<sub>4</sub> battery-- I'm using a 100Ah battery, but you could use a smaller or bigger one as long as it's still a 12V battery. Allto Solar MPPT charge controller -- This isn't your traditional-looking MPPT charge controller, but it's designed to be great at one thing: solar charging 12V batteries.

How do you charge a solar panel with a LFP battery?

Instead, connect the solar panel to the LFP battery via a solar charge controller. A charge controller regulates the voltage and current to safely charge the battery. It also stops charging once the battery is fully charged. Use a charge controller that is compatible with lithium batteries.

How to charge multiple LiFePO<sub>4</sub> batteries at the same time?

To solar charge multiple LiFePO<sub>4</sub> batteries at the same time, you need to first connect the batteries in series or parallel. Batteries connected together should be identical with the same age, BMS, voltage, and capacity. They should also have been purchased from the same brand around the same time.

Are LiFePO<sub>4</sub> batteries worth it?

Despite the higher price, LiFePO<sub>4</sub> batteries are characterized by a much lower operating cost, which means that the purchase pays for itself very quickly. Over the lifetime of the LiFePO<sub>4</sub> battery costs more than 100% less than a standard AGM battery, making them a worthwhile investment and a smart long-term solution.
